THEATRICAL.

The Smart Set.

Saturday evening a packed house greeted the Smart Set company of colored performers at the Temple, and it was the general verdict of all that this was the best and most pleasing comedy attraction of the season. The bill was made up wholly of fun and practically without a plot. Some excellent solo voices were introduced, and the choruses were splendid. The show is snappy, full of ginger and is refined throughout. The costumes exhibited were new and bright and as pretty as have been seen here in some time.

"Peck's Bad Boy."

Age seems to have no effect on that most mischievous of youngsters, who yearly learns new pranks, finds new tricks to play on the German grocer, original methods of bothering his pa, makes life a tiresome thing for the policeman, and when it comes to making love, well—he's just too lovely, so his best girl thinks.

Manager Harry Reavey possesses a knack of getting the right players for the right places. It needs but mention that Miss Elenore Rella is playing the title role, to say that the Bad Boy is better impersonated than ever. Mr. Harry Willis who seems to have been born for the part of the German grocer, will portray the part better than ever before, while all the other parts have been filled with people specially adapted to those parts. The music is all new and up-to-date; specialties galore. In fact, the whole show has been arranged for laughing purposes only.

Special Notice U. C. V.

Any friend who knows the exact location of any Confederate soldier's grave in either of the cemeteries at Palestine Texas, or Union soldiers, will, at their earliest convenience, report the same to the sexton at the cemetery, as the John H. Reagan Camp, U. C. V. wishes to permanently mark each grave for future identification. And greatly oblige.

T. C. SPENCER,
Chm. Committee.

THE OIL FIELD.

Lands Are Booming—Outsiders Investing.

Yesterday hundreds of people visited the oil field, and saw the drilling in progress.

The drill is now down about 400 feet, with oil flowing out freely with the water.

Land deals are being made rapidly now. One of gigantic proportions was closed today through the P. H. Hughes & Co. agency, in which 254 acres were transferred to Mr. J. H. Hill and associates of Galveston. Mr. Hill is manager of the G. H. & H. railroad.

Ex-Gov. Sayers was an interested visitor to the field yesterday.

Judge Russell's Speech

The following extract from a Washington telegram to the Houston Post will be of interest to Judge Russell's friends in Palestine:

"Congressman Gordon Russell of Tyler made a speech today that won for him the applause of all his democratic colleagues and that drew the fire of such heavyweights on the republican side as Payne of New York and Hepburn of Iowa. The Texan was laughed at by many of the republicans when he first began to tell of the differences between the rule of the country under the democratic regime and under that of the republican party, but they soon changed their tune. Their smiles gave way to frowns, and before Judge Russell had finished the entire house was listening. Both Payne and Hepburn tried to reply to Russell's speech, but neither was up to his usual form, and neither scored a hit against the effective points made by the gentleman from Texas. Judge Russell's speech was regarded by all who heard it as a very able effort, and it is predicted that he will soon be known as one of the readiest leaders of the democratic side. After the adjournment of the house the Texan was congratulated by many of his fellow-representatives. Judge Russell's speech was creditable to his party and a distinct personal triumph."

Open House.

Mr. and Mrs. Fullinwider were at home last evening to their young gentlemen friends, in honor of their guest, Miss Grace Gould of Palestine. Mrs. Fullinwider and Miss Gould were assisted in receiving by Miss Azile Durst, Miss Floy Rowland, Miss Inez Baker and Miss Pendleton of Temple. Chicken salad, olives, crackers, wafers and coffee were gracefully passed by Misses Virginia Fullinwider and Elizabeth Ramsey, Master Chester Fullinwider.

Miss Grace Gould, who for some weeks has been a charming and popular visitor in Tyler, has been the recipient of many social courtesies. A recent, elegant dining, given complimentary to her, by her hostess, Mrs. Fullinwider was enjoyed by Miss Gould, Miss Azile Durst, Mr. Ross Phillips and Mr. Nod Brown. Tyler Democrat-Reporter.
